

DemandTec and Winston Weber & Associates Partner to Enhance Retail and Consumer Products Services

Retailers and consumer products manufacturers to benefit from synergies between DemandTec software services and Winston Weber management consulting

SAN CARLOS, Calif. – July 14, 2009 – DemandTec, Inc. (NASDAQ: DMAN), a leading provider of on-demand optimization solutions for retailers and consumer products manufacturers, today announced an alliance with Winston Weber & Associates (WWA), a management consulting firm that specializes in the retail and consumer products industries. The combination of DemandTec's nextGEN software services, which provide shopper insights at the point of decision, and WWA's category management strategy and business process expertise are expected to help retailers and consumer products manufacturers increase their focus on shoppers in their merchandising, marketing, and supporting activities.

"Optimizing merchandising and marketing to attract and engage the individual shopper has become the Holy Grail for retailers and manufacturers, and the work DemandTec and Winston Weber & Associates are doing together can help these companies improve their position in the marketplace," said Winston Weber, Chairman and CEO of WWA. "Our Shopper Centric RetailingSM next-generation merchandising approach is driven by insights that come from DemandTec solutions, and the collaboration with trading partners required to engage and satisfy shoppers is the basis of the DemandTec TradePoint Network. Our joint resources will help drive sales and efficiencies throughout the retail value chain."

Weber gave the keynote address entitled Shopper Centric Retailing and Trading Partner Collaboration, a new shopper-focused operating model for retailers at DemandTec's recent DemandBetter 2009 customer conference. At the same conference, DemandTec unveiled its nextGEN software services that combine category and shopper insights to provide a rich understanding of shopper behavior and the ability to leverage those insights to make better business decisions.

"Today's retailers and consumer products manufacturers share a common objective to increase their focus on the shopper. DemandTec's nextGEN software services help our customers enhance their ability to understand shopper behavior and define appropriate merchandising and marketing strategies," said Dan Fishback, President and CEO at DemandTec. "Winston Weber & Associates has a proven track record in areas including strategic planning and retailer/manufacturer alignment, category management and collaboration. Together, we will help companies achieve competitive advantage in the marketplace."
